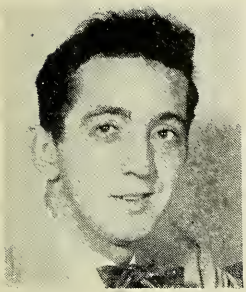
Led the nation's T Quarterbacks in rushing.
Scored 7 touchdowns and passed for 8.

FOR PRESS, RADIO and TELEVISION



This is your 1952 Maryland football brochure, "The 50-Yard Line." It is published in hope that it offers you helpful information for your coverage of Terp games this season. With this book goes an invitation to you to visit us as often as possible in our offices in New Byrd Stadium. In return, I will try to visit you as often as I can and extend every assistance possible. For any information, you can reach me day and night at UNion 4076. When it is real late at night, I can be contacted at WArfield 3800, Extension 507.

Applications for tickets should be made the first part of the week of the game to allow time for mailing. Wire and telephone requirements should be made through your local Western Union office.

Every effort will be made to furnish all the services in the press box available, so that your accounts of the game can be most adequate for your readers. Statistics, both half-time and final figures; a quarter play-by-play; game leaders in all departments; substitutions, etc. will be ready a few minutes after the game.

Many thanks for all your cooperation and favors of the past.

JOE F. BLAIR,
Sports Publicity Director
University of Maryland,
College Park, Maryland.

PRESIDENT, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Dr. H. C. (Curley) Byrd, President of the University of Maryland, owns a distinction that no other college President can claim. He is the only President to ever play for, then coach, then become President of his alma mater.

Dr. Byrd quarterbacked the Terp teams 1905-1907. He also was a pitcher on the baseball teams as well as a sprinter on the track team.

From 1912 through 1934, he was head football coach. In those 25 years, his teams compiled a 114-81-15 record.

After becoming President, Dr. Byrd concentrated his efforts to making Maryland known the world over as one of the foremost educational institutions. Today the University of Maryland has attained that goal set by its President.

Too, his program called for a first class athletic curriculum. The 1952 football season marks the third year that the Terps' new stadium will be used. When the time came for giving the stadium a name, there wasn't a moment's hesitancy that it should be called BYRD STADIUM.

This tribute to one who has contributed an individual effort so untiringly to educate America's youth was the only appropriate thing to do.

THE DEPARTMENT OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

WILLIAM W. COBEY

The big job of scheduling athletic contests for 12 sports and making and taking care of arrangements for these teams, both at home and away, falls on the shoulders of Bill Cobey, the Terps' pleasant and accommodating Graduate Manager of Athletics.

Cobey, who also acts in the capacity as contact man, is head of the ticket office, although he now has a full-time ticket manager in Bennie Robinson.

Cobey comes from Quincy, Fla. His interest in Maryland stems from his being a member of an old Maryland family. His father graduated from the University in 1901. Cobey is an alumnus of the class of 1931.

Cashier at the University for 17 years, he moved to the Athletic Department in 1948.

Cobey is married and has five children, three daughters and two sons. Shortly after publication of this book, he expects the sixth addition to the family.

JIM TATUM

The 1951 record speaks for itself, but this is a New Year and a new schedule for Maryland and Jim Tatum, now ready for his sixth campaign at College Park.

In five years, Tatum has taken his teams to three bowl games, evidence that he has been the good "doctor" of football at College Park.

Coach of the Southern Conference as voted by the sportswriters and Coach of the year as selected by the Washington TD Club, the young Terp mentor now has a 39—9—3 record for his five-year tenure with the Red Shirts. His eight-year slate reads 61—16—5, impressive in any league.

He was a member of this year's All-Star coaching staff.

A native of McColl, S.C., Tatum started his athletic career at the University of North Carolina where he was a star tackle. After graduation in 1935, he followed his coach, Carl Snavely, as assistant at Cornell. Returning to his alma mater for his first fling at head coaching, in 1942, his team compiled a 5-2-2 slate.

World War II found Tatum in the Navy. It was then that he was to learn the Split-T formation from Missouri's Don Faurot as the latter's assistant at Iowa Pre-Flight. He later moved to Jacksonville Naval Air Station as head coach in 1945.

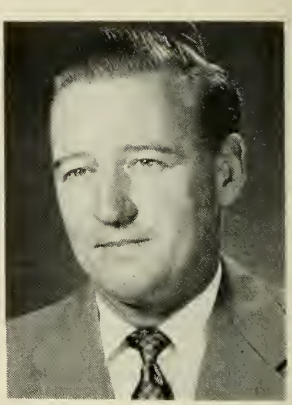
After his Navy discharge, he molded a strong eleven at Oklahoma. He took the Sooners to the 1947 'Gator Bowl and trounced N. C. State, 34-13.

Then followed the move to Maryland and in five years he has brought Maryland football to rank at the very top nationally.

Tatum is married and has two children, Becky and Jimmy. Sometime during the season, they are expecting another addition to the family.

ASSISTANT COACHES

JACK HENNEMIER



At 150 pounds, the Terps' Line Coach Jack Hennemier made football fame for himself when he played center in his college days at Duke University, '33, '34, and '35. Undoubtedly one of the smallest players ever at the center of any line, Hennemier, a 60-minute man in '35, won the most valuable player award as voted by his teammates in 1935. This same year he made All-America Mention and the All-Conference team.

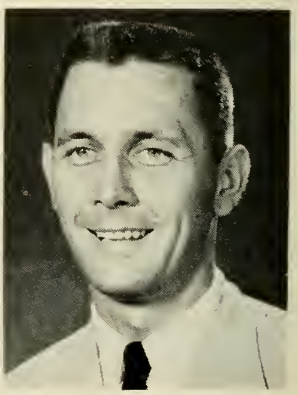
Because of his outstanding gridiron prowess for his size, he is known, even today, as "Scrappy Jack."

In 1939 he was lured to Washington and Lee University as Line Coach. He stayed there through 41, before being called into the Navy in '42. That year he played center and coached at the Pensacola Naval Air Station.

After 3½ years in the service, Hennemier returned to Duke in '45 as assistant line coach and freshman coach.

He came to the Terps in '49 as line coach and handles the defensive team, an outstanding characteristic of Terp elevens under his tutelage.

WARREN GIESE



A native of Milwaukee, Wis., the 27-year old Maryland end coach began his athletic career in 1942 at Wisconsin State College. Here the Navy vet lettered playing end and won a monogram as a quarter-miler.

Entering the service in June '43, he was sent to Central Michigan College to study under the V-12 program. He played right half before transferring to Miami Training Center and then to Jacksonville in '45, where he played end under Coach Tatum.

He kept his football career going by enrolling at Oklahoma in '46 to play for his Navy boss from Jacksonville. He won a berth on the All-Big 7 team that year.

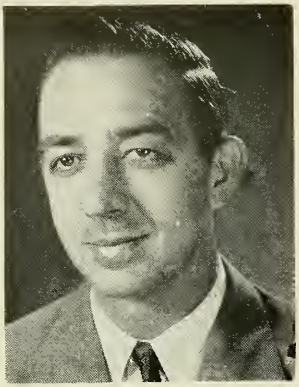
Giese returned to Central Michigan to play one more year and got his B.A. and B.S.

In '49, Tatum beckoned his former star to Maryland as end coach. Mixing football with studies, Giese got his Master's in Physical Education in '49.

He spent a month in Japan this summer as a member of the U.S. Coaching Staff sent there by the Army to conduct coaching clinics for various Army, Navy and Air Force bases.

He will "observe" his first wedding anniversary December 23.

TOMMY MONT



One of the greatest athletes in the history of the University of Maryland, Tommy Mont returned to his alma mater in 1951 as Terp backfield coach.

A four-year letterman in football, basketball and lacrosse, Mont returned to Maryland after four brilliant years with the professional Washington Redskins.

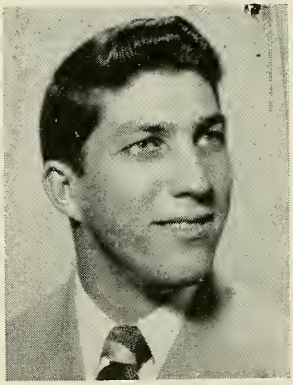
A home stater, coming from Cumberland, Md., Mont embarked on his athletic years in 1941. He got two years in before entering the service in the spring of '43. He played tailback in '41 then quarterback on the '42 T eleven. Both years he won his basketball and lacrosse letters also. Mont won All-America Mention as well as being placed on the Conference team in '42, and was named the outstanding college player of the Washington-Maryland area that year.

With 42 months in the service, 18 of which were spent in the ETO, Mont continued playing ball. He was tailback on the Fort Benning post championship team of '43. As quarterback and head coach, he led the 3rd Infantry team to the ETO championship. He also was at the helm of the 7th Army All-Star team.

Mont completed his college ball playing quarterback for the Terps in '46 when he again won All-America Mention and All-Conference honors.

He has three sons; ages 5, 3, and 1½.

VERNON SEIBERT



Another graduate of the University to return to his alma mater as assistant coach, Vernon Seibert begins his second year as defensive backfield coach for the Terps. He also is chief of concessions for all athletic events.

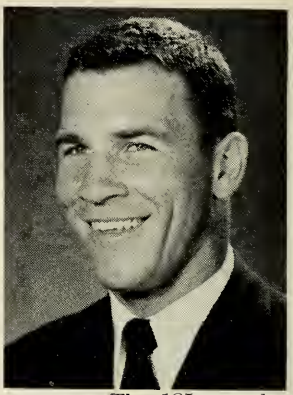
An outstanding halfback 1946 through the '49 season, playing offense for three years and defense his fourth campaign, he is best remembered for his great defensive play which tabs him as one of the finest safety men to play at Maryland.

Before he returned to Maryland, Seibert was football and lacrosse coach at Baltimore Junior College for one year.

He was a B-25 pilot in the South Pacific in World War 11.

He is married and has no children.

BOB WARD



The all-time great name in the history of the University of Maryland football is that of Bob Ward. The two-year All-America Guard has decided to stay on at his alma mater to be the Terps' offensive line coach.

Ward graduated this summer with a degree from the School of Business and Public Administration, finishing in the upper one-third of the class. He majored in Real Estate and Insurance.

Following his discharge from the Army paratroopers in 1947, Ward came to Maryland as one of the smallest guard prospects ever seen by Jim Tatum. But Tatum liked what he saw and now is more than happy that Ward was on his side of the line for four years. The 185-pounder from Elizabeth, N.J., was outstanding every Saturday for the Terps.

His many honors are too numerous to mention, but Ward was recipient of every award imaginable for any lineman. After making All-America his junior year for his excellent defensive play, he proved that he wasn't just an ordinary platoon football player by making everybody's All-America team in 1951 playing offense. Tatum himself credits the great success of his offensive team to his '51 Co-Captain, Bob Ward. When things got real rough for the Terps, Ward would trot in to play defense and stop the enemy threat.

Besides the unanimous All-America selections last year, Ward was named "Lineman of the Year" by the Washington Touchdown Club and the Philadelphia Sportswriters' Assn. He was runnerup to Stanford's Bill McColl for the same Associated Press award. He was named the outstanding player of the Southern Conference. During the season, he was the nation's 'Lineman of the Week," after his great game against Georgia.

Ward is married and has a son, Richard, 2, and a one-year-old daughter, Kathie.

EMMETT CHEEK

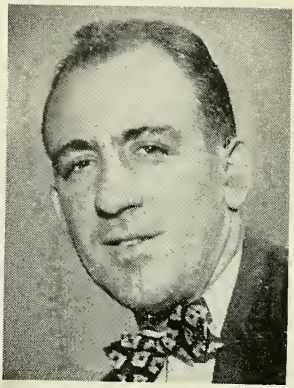
Added to the staff last fall, Cheek came to the Terps from Guilford College, N. C., where he was line coach and baseball coach in '49 and '50. He will coach the Terp freshman team. He also is part-time instructor in the physicial education department.

A native of Chapel Hill, N. C., Cheek went to UNC. Starting in 1940, he was a guard under Tatum, who was Freshman coach. After another year of football, Cheek was called into the service in '41, and assigned to Army Medics. Returning to Carolina, he completed his football career under Carl Snavely. He stayed there for graduate work in '48.

He received his Master's Degree in Physical Education from N.C. in 1950.

Cheek is married and has one son.

EDDIE TEAGUE



The newest addition to the staff, Teague comes to Maryland following his discharge in mid-August from the U. S. Marine Corps after serving 15 months in the Infantry, 1st Marine Division, Korea. A Captain in the USMCR, Teague served three years during World War II.

He will be assistant freshman coach, and also teach physical education.

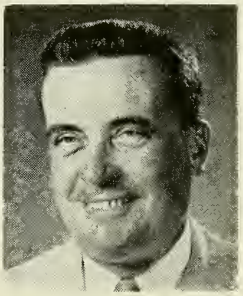
Teague attended N. C. State College, 1941-43, then transferred to UNC via his Marine Unit and received his A.B. Degree. Following his hitch in the service, he returned to Chapel Hill and got his Master's in '47

He then went to Guilford College, N.C., as backfield coach and assistant director of physical education in 1947 and '48. He became head coach and athletic director in 1949-51; then was called to active duty.

Teague is married and has a daughter, Peggy, four years old.

THE TRAINERS

ALFRED J. "DUKE" WYRE



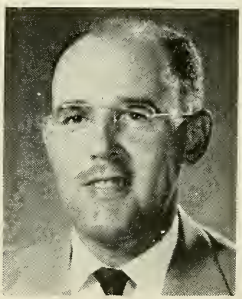
Kept quite busy spreading the good word of the best methods of training athletic teams through many lectures at clinics in the off-seasons, Maryland's trainer "Dapper Duke" Wyre lays aside his Esquire wardrobe for hi training togs for the sixth year at Maryland.

An old Ivy-Leaguer, "Duke" was trainer at Yale for 15 years before he moved to Holy Cross for two more semesters, then he came to the Terps in 1947.

A Navy veteran, Wyre served as a physical educational instructor in the V-12 program.

He was the first president of the Conference Trainer's Assn. He presently is on the board of the National Trainers' Assn. In 1949, he was named the number one trainer in the East.

JOHN LACEY



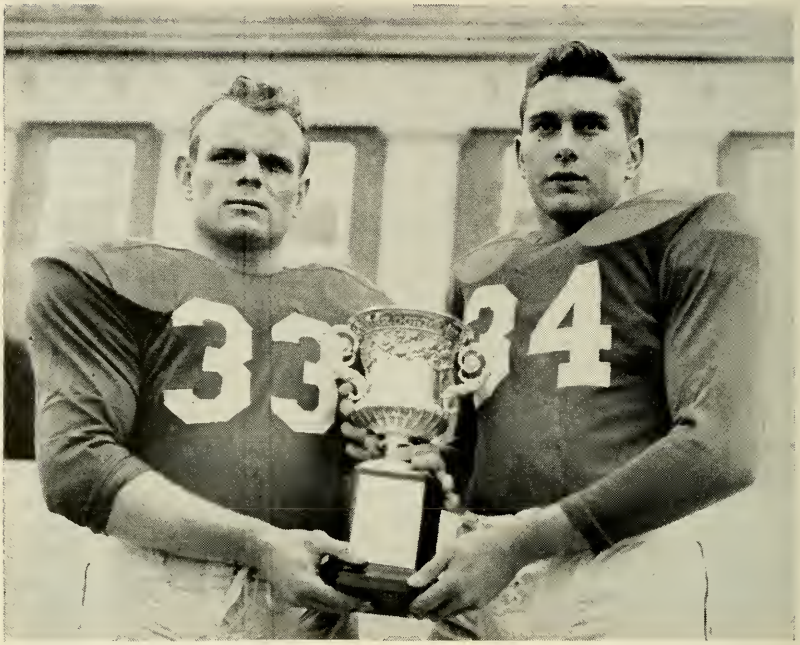
Another of those accented Ivy-Leaguers, Lacey came to Maryland in the summer of 1951 as the Terps' first full-time assistant trainer.

Before the move to College Park, Lacey wa assistant trainer at Yale for three years. He also has had long experience with pro teams. In early pro training periods, he had been trainer for the Chicago Cardinals, the New York Yanks, and was with the Baltimore Colts in 1950.

He graduated from Tilton Academy in New Hampshire.

'52 CO-CAPTAINS

Ed Fullerton — John Alderton



Ed Fullerton and John Alderton, pictured above, have the enviable distinction of being the Co-Captains of the 1952 Terrapins.

Theirs' is the job of helping Jim Tatum and staff mold together another championship eleven for Maryland. They will be a big help, we know, even though losses from the '51 team were critical in some positions. The potential for another winning team definitely is available at College Park. Therefore, the role of team leadership is even more vitally important in the case of one roosting near the top. That is why Tatum will be counting on them on and off the field to give confidence and exhibit the spirit evident among past Maryland elevens.

Immediately following the Terps' Sugar Bowl victory, teammates unanimously gave the honor to two great football players and two great leaders, Fullerton and Alderton.

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1952

The "pickin" will be a bit tougher in '52 for the Yankee-most half-sister of the Southern Conference. The "slow-old" Terrapin has its gridiron warriors taking it into the fast company of the deep South to meet five Southeastern Conference foes, Auburn, Georgia, LSU, 'Ole Miss, and Alabama. The Terrapin also will get to talk things over with its Conference half-sister, the Clemson Tiger. This meeting was brought about by what you might call mutual agreement.

So while the two bowl participants of last January "sit out their year" by not playing in conference games, they will reach far and wide to complete their schedules. Maryland also must meet Missouri, Navy and Boston University.

Terp Coach Jim Tatum, starting his sixth year as director of the big show from College Park doesn't hesitate in expressing his views of optimism about the '52 team. Today, this is almost unheard of in the coaching fraternity, even if the prospects look undeniably favorable. But Tatum doesn't try to imitate some blues singer when he talks about his team. This year he believes the team will be as good as if not better than the team which laid claim to the national championship after winning the Sugar Bowl game from the number one ranked Tennessee.

To all this, there is no denying from any quarters. The Terps have a 12-game winning streak in the books and they want to add to that record.

The loss of 17 lettermen is a blow to any team, however, a bit of comfort is evidenced with 24 lettermen returning.

When speaking of the backfield, the big Red Shirts are: quarterback Jack Scarbath, who is a strong candidate for All-America honors; Senior and Co-Captain Ed Fullerton; junior halfbacks who run like a bunch of jack-rabbits, Chester Hanulak and Ralph Felton; along with Dick Nolan, and sophs Joe Horning and Ronnie Waller, and newcomers Charles Boxold, Leland Liebold, George Albrecht, and Bill Walker; fullbacks Ed Barritt, Bob Laughery, and Dick Bielski; and quarterbacks Bob DeStefano, Bernie Faloney, and Lynn Beightol. Fullerton, Horning and Faloney will be first-string defensive secondary men but will be able to play offense.

Offensively, up front, the Terps must build around center Tom Cosgrove, one of the game's finest; Stanley Jones, powerful 235-pound block of granite at tackle, and end Lou Weidensaul.

Defensively, they have no great "situation" of frightening proportions. In ends co-captain John Alderton and Paul Nestor they have two of the best flanks in the nation. In their famous "M-Club" of All-America tackle Dick "Little Mo" Modzelewski, Bob "Blubber" Morgan, and Bill Maletzky, Maryland has a murderous trio; one that could be the most formidable middle of any defensive unit in football. Each little "M" goes 235 pounds and all are seasoned veterans. Morgan is a junior.

Along with Fullerton, Faloney and Horning in the secondary, we will find some of the following as linebackers: Art Hurd, Marty Crytzer, Charlie Lattimer, Cliff Trexler, Walt Boeri, or newcomer Herb Hoffman.

Last year's eleven emerged the nation's highest scoring team in the nation with 353 points; compiled the country's second best total offensive figure; and third best rushing average per game.

In his five years at Maryland, Tatum has compiled the enviable record of 39 wins, 9 losses, and three ties. In the same span, his teams have gone to three bowl games, winning two and tieing one.

TERP THUMBNAIL SKETCHES

ENDS

JOHN ALDERTON, 21, 6-1, 185, Senior from Cumberland, Md.—Co-Captain of the '52 Terrapins—the smallest lineman on the team but the most explosive—this will be his third campaign as first string defensive end—he hasn't given a remote indication of relinquishing the job after he got it early in the '50 season—tabbed by coaches as the best defensive end in many a moon . . . "He could move a mountain if he had to" is an appropriate evaluation of his ability by Tatum . . . has the valuable knack of sidestepping or bowling over the opponent trying to stop him . . . not unusual to find Johnny ramming through the interference to throw the ball carrier for long losses . . . distinguished himself in North Carolina game when Terps were back on their heels late in the game and trying to save a 7-point lead by breaking through 4 straight downs to throw passer for a loss . . . Outstanding in the Sugar Bowl, drawing high praise from Tennessee Coach Bob Neyland as a great defensive end . . . may get the unusual but necessary switch to offense . . . honors in '51 included Southern Conference second team . . . Washington Post second team . . . All-Players All-South Hon. Mention . . . could be "sleeper" for best college end in '52 . . . letterman on the track team as a broad jumper . . . a four-sport star at Fort Hill High School.

LOU WEIDENSAUL, 24, 6-2, 205, Senior from Ashland, Pa.—The Terps' fine offensive end . . . leading pass receiver last season with 18 receptions for 249 yards and 4 td's . . . caught three strikes from Scarbath in the Sugar Bowl . . . makes a great effort to get every pass with big hands and long reach . . . made a circus catch in end zone in North Carolina game to give Terps margin of victory . . . set a new Maryland pass receiving record for number of catches in one game when he snagged 8 in the Navy game . . . Played in Penna. All-Star game in '44 . . . A Navy vet . . . United Press third team All-South and Washington Post Hon. Mention.

PAUL NESTOR, 21, 6-3, 202, Senior from Parsons, W. Va.—stepped into the first string defensive left end job last year and did a brilliant job . . . transfer from Potomac State, W. Va., where he played his first two years . . . rewarded for a great year as he was drafted by the Chicago Bears . . . also named on the All-Bowl team by the United Press following a great performance against the Vols . . . likes it rough and makes it tough to get around him . . . fast and a sure tackler . . . hopes to enter Dental School.

LLOYD COLTERYAHN, 21, 6-2, 205, Senior from Brentwood, Pa.—big and fast . . . fine blocker and an excellent target for passes from the Terp backs . . . came along last year as expected after being out first part of season because of injury . . . caught 8 aerials for 154 yards and 2 td's . . . was WPIAL (Pa.) star . . . played in Pittsburgh all-star high school game.

MARTIN CRYTZER, 20, 6-0, 210, Junior from Brackenridge, Pa.—another brilliant player from Har-Brack High School, the same school responsible for Terp stars Ed and Dick Modzelewski, and Joe Horning . . . a big strong boy who likes it rough . . . did a fine job as a soph in '51 . . . should be the Terps' number one linebacker this year . . . can also fill in at the defensive end spot . . . has nearly an A average in Pre-Dental School.

FRED HEFFNER, 20, 6-3, 210, Junior from Saxton, Pa.—a big, brawny blonde who is one of Terps' all-time punters . . . except for required short kicks, he would have had much higher average in '51 . . . had a 39.4 avg. for 15 kicks . . . boots 'em long and high . . . undoubtedly will be number one replacement for Weidensaul and Colteryahn . . . Played in North-South High School All-Star game.

ROBERT PIVEC, 19, 6-0, 190, Sophomore from Baltimore's Patterson Park High School—a rugged newcomer who should make an adequate offensive end replacement to spell the regulars . . . fast downfield . . . with a bit of experience he is sure to bolster the end position . . . All-State in 1949 and '50.

RALPH BAIERL, 20, 6-3, 215, Sophomore from Pittsburgh, Pa.—held out last year after an early season injury . . . big and plenty rugged . . . will help bolster the linebacking duties . . . a good prospect.

TACKLES

DICK "LITTLE MO" MODZELEWSKI, 21, 6-0, 235, Senior from West Natrona, Pa.—with a repeat performance of his outstanding play in '51, "Little Mo" will be a strong candidate for "Lineman of the Year" honors . . . can't miss laying further claim in bid as the Terps' all-time tackle . . . opposing coaches as well as Tatum call him the game's best . . . great year as a junior brought him All-American honors . . . selected on Chicago Tribune's first team All-Players All-America, Associated Press second team, United Press third team . . . made first team on All-Southern Conference selections, being named Co-Captain of the Conference eleven . . . made many other selections . . . drew endless praise from coaches, players, press, and fans for his outstanding game against Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl Game . . . was named on the United Press All-Bowl team . . . will lead the Terp defense and may have to do double duty as offensive tackle if that position remains critical following pre-season practice . . . the big gun of the Terps' now famous "M" Club of "Modzelewski, Morgan, and Maletzky."

BOB "BLUBBER" MORGAN, 22, 6-0, 235, Junior from Freeport, Pa.—the second ⅓ of the defensive "M" Club . . . stepped into the right tackle position opening game in '51 and gave a great show every Saturday . . . played his greatest game in Sugar Bowl . . . broke through on numerous occasions to throw ball carrier for losses, a specialty of Morgan . . . tough to get by . . . fast and quick as a cat . . . leaves little to be desired and with another fine year could be a sure bet to land many laurels for his gridiron brilliance . . . tackles "Little Mo" and "Blubber" offer a big challenge to the Terp opponents.

STANLEY JONES, 20, 6-0, 235, Junior from Lemoyne, Pa.—is Tatum's big hope around which to build his offensive line . . . Jones was a big factor in success of Terp offensive in '51 . . . probably the strongest man on the squad . . . is a big boy who can really move the defense out of the way . . . very fast . . . played every game last year without any doubt of superiority . . . Was All-Susquehanna Conference player and All-Harrisburg . . . State discus champ.

TOM BREUNICH, 20, 6-2, 215, Sophomore from Pelham, N. Y.—Should be nearly what the doctor ordered to assist clear up the cloudy offensive tackle spot . . . held out last year because of illness . . . showed exceptionally well in spring practice . . . a fine prospect with great possibilities . . . has tremendous desire.

RAY BLACKBURN, 20, 6-1, 212, Sophomore from Keyser, W. Va.—the picture may clear for Tatum's big tackle problem if Blackburn also comes through as expected . . . he too had a good spring practice until illness forced him out of the line-up . . . was an outstanding frosh for the Terps . . . a tough big boy . . . was All-Conference and All-North All-America in High School . . . staff has high hopes for his potential.

BILL VENTER, 19, 6-1, 225, Sophomore from New Kensington, Pa.—Another big tackle who will be in there with a 50-50 chance of playing a lot of ball this fall . . . is young and has no varsity experience but he was one of leading frosh . . . had a good spring practice . . . could turn out to be key man, defensively and offensively . . . has great ability . . . was all-WPIAL in High Schol.

DOMINIC STALA, 20, 6-2, 218, Sophomore from Aliquippa, Pa.—another of those sophomore hopefuls Tatum has available . . . impressive as a frosh and in spring ball . . . with a bit of hustle he could move right up in there . . . lettered in football, basketball, baseball, and track at Aliquippa High School.

RICHARD COWAN, 19, 6-2, 215, Sophomore from East McKeesport, Pa.—Has plenty of physical ability and only after more football savvy, which he should get early this fall will he become a serious contender for a top spot on the team . . . star football, basketball, and baseball athlete in High School.

ED O'CONNOR, 23, 6-4, 220, Senior from Yonkers, N. Y.—returns to the squad after a hitch in the Marines . . . could be the surprise package of the line . . . might help offensive problem . . . can also play defense . . . confidence will help.

GUARDS

BILL MALETZKY, 22, 6-1, 235, Senior from White Plains, N. Y.—Big Bill is the third member of the "M" Club trio . . . enjoyed a great year in '51 . . . outstanding in Sugar Bowl . . . fast and a vicious tackler . . . hard to get around . . . not to be fooled . . . plays that middle of the line as if he owned it . . . a real rock, making the Terps' "Rock of Gibralter" defensive set-up along the line complete . . . blocked two punts . . . comes from White Plains High School along with guard Frank Navarro, halfback Dick Nolan and graduate Hank Fox . . . drafted by Cleveland Browns . . . was All-Worchester County for two years in a tough league.

RAY STANKUS, 21, 6-0, 207, Senior from Philadelphia, Pa.—after finishing strong last season and enjoying an impressive spring practice, Stankus looks like he is ready to step in to take over one of the offensive guard positions left vacated by loss of Bob Ward and Pete Ladygo . . . also capable on defense . . . is very conscientious with a lot of drive and determination . . . was Co-Captain of Northeast Catholic where he won All-Catholic and All-Scholastic honors.

DON DECKER, 20, 5-10, 215, Junior from Cumberland, Md.—A little rock of dynamite built close to the ground . . . has a good offensive charge . . . in line to take over as other offensive guard, if he wants it . . . likes to play hard so all comers will have tough assignment . . . was third highest scorer on team in '51 as a result of 37 extra points for 51 attempts as well as one field goal . . . had fourth best place-kicking percentage in the country . . . at Fort Hill School, he was All-City, All-County two years, and All-State one year . . . given Honorable Mention All-America at Fort Hill also.

FRANK NAVARRO, 22, 5-10, 190, Senior from White Plains, N. Y.—Has lettered both years . . . hard worker . . . plays a good steady game . . . excellent blocker for his size . . . will be out to nail down a starting berth . . . has plenty of hustle to make the grade.

WALTER BOERI, 21, 5-10, 200, Senior from Long Island, N. Y.—did a good job as a reserve offensive lineman in '51 . . . had a successful spring practice and undoubtedly will be moved to the defensive unit . . . to give a needed hand at linebacking . . . plenty of brawn . . . was star fullback at Erasmus High.
ART HURD, 22, 6-0, 210, Senior from Gardner, Mass.—Expected to be ace linebacker for the Terps . . . loves to play plenty of defense . . . likes it rough and tough . . . should be able to handle the job adequately . . . finished strong last season . . . is just as quiet off the field as he is tough on the field, so quiet in fact that his teammates call him "Mother."
JOHN GUENDER, 21, 5-11, 190, Junior from Plainfield, N.J.—Got valuable experience last season . . . is sure to be an important man in helping the offensive guard slots . . . a hard worker . . . fast and a fine blocker . . . An Army vet . . . JOHN BOWERSOX, 19, 6-1, 200, Sophomore from Westminster, Md.—outstanding frosh lineman . . . great spring practice for a rookie . . . high in Tatum's plans to help line . . . is fast and possesses a quick charge and follow through on his blocking . . . could play a lot of ball this fall . . . worth watching . . . All-State his senior year . . . also lettered in basketball and baseball . . . GEORGE PALAHUNIK, 21, 6-1, 205, Sophomore from McKees Rocks, Pa.—A big strong boy with a lot of desire to play football . . . could be a big help after some experience. . . . LYNN SZAFRANSKI, 19, 6-0, 209, Sophomore from Carnegie, Pa.—One of top frosh linemen . . . looks promising . . . very serious about the game . . . was All-Catholic in Western Pennsylvania. . . . TOM MC LUCKIE, 20, 5-11, 215, Sophomore from Midland, Mich.—big Tom could surprise a lot of folks . . . needs experience and confidence . . . All-State center. . . . BOB LYNN, 21, 6-0, 195, Sophomore from Washington, D. C.—After a year of seasoning, Lynn should be ready to play some football . . . was All-Metropolitan at Eastern High.

CENTERS

TOM COSGROVE, 22, 6-3, 215, Senior from Philadelphia, Pa.—Maryland's all-time offensive center . . . has been first string since opening whistle of first game his soph year . . . Cosgrove could be best offensive center in college football today . . . moves defenders out of the way and keeps them out . . . is big and exceptionally fast . . . an excellent blocker . . . gets his initial block and never quits . . . follows through with accurate and vicious downfield blocking . . . a key man to success of qb and Split-T . . . made Honorable Mention All-America, both Associated Press and All-Players and second team Washington Post All-Area . . . Drafted by the Cleveland Browns.
CHARLES LATTIMER, 20, 6-1, 215, Junior from Cumberland, Md.—Came through for the Terps last season in fine fashion for a soph . . . did well enough to letter . . . big and rough . . . has one of the linebacking posts sewed up; his job will be to keep it . . . capable enough to be outstanding defensive ball hawk . . . Won All-City honors while at Fort Hill High School.
CLIFFORD TREXLER, 21, 6-1, 200, Junior from New Florence, Pa.—Experience is the best teacher, so with enough seasoning from the '51 season under his belt, Trexler will be a valuable addition . . . possibly be in the thick of the running for a linebacking job . . . can also fill in at the offensive slot . . . good blocker on offense . . . pursues and follows play well on defense . . . Prepared at Kiski School in Pa.
HERB HOFFMAN, 20, 6-0, 205, Sophomore from Hartford, Conn.—One of the nicest guys on the squad but one of the toughest . . . is a sure bet to be in running for a top linebacking job . . . has hustle to spare . . . did outstanding job for frosh and carried the good work right on through spring practice . . . likes to use the phrase, "Let's be lean and mean!" . . . Follows the play well . . . hard to fake him out . . .
JOHN IRVINE, 19, 6-2, 210, Sophomore from Evans City, Pa.—Has stepped into the offensive center's spot nicely . . . Being groomed to take Cosgrove's place after this year . . . fast and a good blocker . . . is sure to spell Cosgrove during the season . . . on WPIAL football and basketball teams . . . also lettered in track and baseball . . .
DON BROUGHER, 20, 6-2, 210, Sophomore from Edgewood, Pa.—A promising snapperback . . . has the ability . . . needs experience then will be ready to help the offensive center spot.

QUARTERBACKS

JACK SCARBATH, 21, 6-1, 190, Senior from Baltimore, Md.—The Terps' All-America quarterback candidate . . . tabbed as one of the finest, if not THE finest, Split-T general in football today . . . much of Maryland's success this fall will depend upon Scarbath . . . it looks like this: "As Scarbath goes, so goes Maryland." . . .

presently being compared with past all-time great quarterbacks . . . good as a sophomore, outstanding as a junior, another great year will place him among the gridiron greats . . . After his outstanding exhibition in directing the Terp attack aganst Tennessee, the "daddy" of the Split-T, Missouri's Don Faurot, echoed of the contest that Maryland's Scarbath operated the system better than any other qb since it's inception ten years ago . . . Jack seems to have his greatest days against the most formidable opponents . . . He is a fine and accurate passer . . . Had over 50% completions last year as he made good with 34 out of 67 attempts . . . Since the Terps didn't have to pass frequently in '51, he didn't call on his own aerial threat . . . But when he needed to pass, he did so well . . . However, the tremendously valuable asset he has is that he is an excellent ball carrier . . . this, with his great passing arm makes him even more of a sensation of a T quarterback through any success he might have . . . He does an exceptional job on the Split-T "keep play" . . . His deception is something to watch and his fakes of hand-offs and pitch-outs keeps the defenders always waiting for most anything to happen once the ball is snapped . . . He is fast and once beyond the line of scrimmage he keeps himself going with a pair of high churning legs . . . A big boy, Scarbath is a smart field general, too, in the sense that he never loses control of his command . . . He calls a smart sequence of plays and he furthermore proves his ability by changing the play after he has spotted the opponents' defense . . . led the nation's T qbs in '51 in rushing . . . His 34 completions went for 675 yards and 8 scores . . . scored 7 times himself . . . In the Sugar Bowl he completed 6 out of 9 aerials, the first six he threw . . . Was AP Hon. Men. All-America as well as All-Players . . . selected on Conference's second teams and the Washington Post first team All-Area . . . For the third straight year, he should lead Maryland to another successful season . . .

BOB DeSTEFANO, 21. 5-11, 190, Senior from Providence, R.I.—Is first replacement behind Scarbath . . . A fine passer . . . also calls an excellent series of plays . . . with not too much of an assignment in spelling Scarbath, Tatum has him playing in the defensive secondary where he has done a creditable job . . . undoubtedly will see a lot of action in same capacity this fall . . . Serious and a hard worker.

BERNIE FALONEY, 20, 5-11, 182, Junior from East Carnegie, Pa.—A real triple threat . . . great promise for a junior . . . might do most of the quarterbacking behind his room-mate, Scarbath . . . Faloney is a fine runner and a great passer . . . kicks superbly . . . handled the greater part of punting duties in '51 and averaged 33.7 yards for 27 boots . . . did a great job in Sugar Bowl by punting each of his 8 kicks away from the Vol safety man . . . passed 12 times for 6 completions, two for scores . . . carried the ball 22 times for 168 yards for a 7.6 avg. . . . scored once . . . to go along with all this, he was number one defensive right half . . . a keen defender . . . intercepted 3 enemy aerials for 50 yards return besides knocking down numerous others—one to watch carefully . . . led the Terp baseball team in batting this spring while playing a great game of shortstop.

LYNN BEIGHTOL, 18, 6-0, 175, Sophomore from Cumberland, Md.—One of the most sought after players in Maryland history . . . a very outstanding qb prospect . . . should see enough action this year to prep him for the job in '53 . . . held ball for extra points . . . called plays in 3 games in '51 . . . rushed 7 times for 21 yards . . . scored once and completed one for one aerial . . . All-State qb for 2 years at Fort Hill High School . . . Player of Year Award in Cumberland for two years . . . also lettered in basketball and track.

HALFBACKS

ED FULLERTON, 21, 5-11, 190, Senior from West View, Pa.—Co-Captain . . . Heroically disproved the general feeling that the 60-minute man in football is a thing of the past with his brilliant one-man show in the Sugar Bowl game while playing offensive and defensive halfback . . . Scored twice, passed for another, and recovered a fumble that led to the other Terp touchdown . . . outstandng defensive halfback, so good that it might cost him the fullback job . . . hits harder in the open than any other player on the team . . . never loses the play . . . likes it rough all the time . . . that is how he got the "blood and guts" tag . . . snared 5 enemy aerials during the season and made numerous tackles in the secondary . . . while on offense, he compiled the best rushing average of the team with 9 yards a carry although he rushed but 27 times . . . His 86 yard td jaunt against Georgia set a new record for longest td run from scrimmage . . . Scored 6 times before the Sugar Bowl Game . . . Named on the United Press All-Bowl Team.

RALPH FELTON, 20, 6-0, 190, Junior from Midway, Pa.—Lived up to his prediction as being a real hot soph halfback prospect . . . The "Midway Express" took over the assignment and had a big year . . . a powerful runner . . . very fast and hard to bring down . . . rushed 189 yards in 14 carries against North Carolina State . . . averaged 5.8 yards with 485 for 83 carries . . . scored 4 times . . . had a good spring practice and should continue grinding out the yardage this fall . . . worth watching . . . was ALL-WPIAL two years. . . lettered 4 years in football, basketball and baseball.

CHESTER HANULAK, 19, 5-10, 165, Junior from Hackensack, N.J.—Little Hanulak from Hackensack . . . puts on a great show with his running . . . shows a peculiar hip movement which makes him hard to bring down . . . has great speed . . . very elusive . . . follows interference well . . . had 5 tds in his first 26 carries, for one score every fifth time he carried . . . finished the season with an 8.6 rushing avg. with 300 yards for 35 rushes . . . lugged the pigskin 4 times against Tennessee and picked up 35 yards . . . could easily steal the show . . . keep a sharp eye on halfback Hanulak from Hackensack . . . lettered in baseball also last spring . . . was all-League and all-County in football and all-State in baseball.

JOE HORNING, 19, 5-9, 165, Sophomore from Natrona Heights, Pa.—"Little Joe", smallest man of them all but as a frosh was the biggest surprise of all . . . fastest member of the squad . . one of the most wiry "kids" on the gridiron . . . can play offense and defense but he excels in the secondary . . . the speed demon frosh of '51 hit a "home run" every time out last year . . . should have the safety job all by himself . . . snagged six enemy aerials last year to lead the team in that department . . . his interception gallop the length of the field for a td against Missouri set a new Terp record . . . could be used also to relieve on offense . . . went 76 yards for a score against W. Va . . . Another to watch.

DICK NOLAN, 21, 6-1, 175, Junior from White Plains, N.Y.—Another two-platoon back . . . Can pick 'em up and lay 'em down . . . saw most duty in '51 on defense where he will be placed at start of this campaign . . . might get the call for a lot more offensive work . . . teammates call him "crazy legs" . . . intramural dash champion.

RONNIE WALLER, 19, 5-11, 175, Sophomore from Laurel, Del.—The little town of Laurel just 12 miles from the Maryland border on the Eastern Shore gives Maryland one of its most star-studded athletes in Waller . . . one of the finest looking halfbacks ever to hit the Maryland football camp . . . did an outstanding job on the freshman team and has just finished a great spring practice . . . did participate in the Terps' opener against Washington and Lee last year and carired twice, picking up 19 yards for his two efforts . . . could give Hanulak fits for the lefthalf spot . . . Waller is built for his specialty. speed . . . he does the 100 in ten flat . . . the young soph was named the outstanding athlete of the state in '51, his senior year at Laurel . . . He brings back to football that old-fashioned weapon not seen too much today, the straight-arm . . . He uses it very effectively too . . . Once beyond the line of scrimmage he becomes more dangerous . . . Does a good job throwing the Split-T running pass . . . All-State 2 years, and second team All-State his soph year . . . awarded the best all-around athlete honor . . . Bears watching.

CHARLES BOXOLD, 21, 5-11, 185, Sophomore from Providence, R.I.—Moved to half from qb . . . very fast with a lot of desire to play . . . some experience this year will help give Tatum more reliable reserves. — LELAND LIEBOLD, 20, 6-1, 195, Sophomore from Smokeless, Pa.—Held out last year following an early injury . . . expected to give a lot of assistance in the backfield . . . power-type runner . . . also does a pretty good punting job, kicking from the left side . . . Was All-County and played in All-Star game while at Armagh High. — GEORGE ALBRECHT, 21, 5-11, 180, Sophomore from Homeville, Pa.—A tower of strength on the defense . . . old injury which kept him out in '51 should be healed giving Tatum a good fast hard runner who wants to play football. —

BILL WALKER, 18, 6-1, 190, Sophomore from Homeville, Pa.—Same high school (Munhall) and home town as Albrecht . . . fine looking prospect up from the frosh . . . could see offensive and defensive duty.

ED BARRITT, 21, 5-10, 200, Junior from Long Island, N.Y.—After a great performance in spring drills, Barritt convinced Tatum and staff that he should be the number one fullback for the Terps this year . . . in '51 he didn't get too much chance to prove his worth behind Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski, so he saved his starring efforts for the all-important spring matinees . . . as the season opens, the job is his and there is no reason to believe he doesn't intend to keep it . . . he is a real bull-type runner . . . has exceptional speed, and is a fine blocker, very important for the Split-T fb . . . displayed ability to get through the line and keep right on going for a couple extra yards while tacklers are hanging on . . . in 15 carries in '51, he picked up 105 yards for a 7 yard avg. romped 41 yards for a td in the opener . . . Starred at Mineola High School.

BOB LAUGHERY, 21, 6-0, 200, Sophomore from Mill Run, Pa.—Another bull-type runner with speed who is ready to give battle for the fb job now that an old injury is healed . . . could be right there every Saturday . . . personally vows he is going to play a lot of ball this fall, a good omen for a sophomore back.

DICK BIELSKI, 19, 6-0, 205, Sophomore from Baltimore, Md.—A lot is expected of this big lad . . . had a crack at it last year to get that touch of experience although he carried only 3 times to pick up 9 yards . . . is another battering fb . . . good blocker . . . needs more speed and experience . . . Was All-State his senior year at Patterson Park.

THE OUTLOOK FOR OUR OPPONENTS AS REPORTED BY THEIR PUBLICITY DIRECTORS

University of Missouri

By BILL CALLAHAN

Using both his patented Split T offense, and the spread formation he exploited last year, Missouri Coach Don Faurot looks for a generally improved 1952 Tiger football team.

Some 20 veterans return, and there are hopeful signs in the M. U. camp that the team's ground attack—dormant last season—will be rejuvenated this fall. Biggest cause for optimism is a well stocked quarterback post and the presence of a former West Point gridder—195-pound Bill Rowekamp—as regular fullback. Except at center, the Tigers will man all stations with holdover veterans.

Defense, however, is still a questionable item. Offensively, the Mizzou squad should carry a few more guns this season—with the probability that clever Jim Hook will lead the club's Split T maneuvers—and sophomore Tony Scardino will be a tailback in the spread formation.

Scardino's passing as a freshman last season enabled M. U. to finish as the nation's second-best passing team.

Probable line standouts for Missouri should be veteran Jack Lordo at guard, and two sophomores—end Jim Jennings and tackle Charley Bull. This will be Faurot's 15th gridiron edition at Missouri.

Auburn

by BILL BECKWITH

Auburn will field a much improved football team this fall. The Tigers employed a new coaching staff, led by Ralph Jordan, before the 1951 campaign opened and quickly went from a (0-10-0) record to (5-5-0). With a year behind them and the boys familiar to their style of play, Auburn will be ready.

Offensively, Auburn lost the second leading ground-gainer in the SEC in fullback Homer Williams by graduation. Also gone from the backfield is first string quarterback Allan Parks, the chief engineer of Auburn's five victories.

Defensively, Auburn lost 2nd All-SEC guard Foots Bauer and end Dave Ridgway.

Other offensive men gone are the first string tackles, Gene Mulhall and Joe Tiburzi; guard Bauer, and end Ridgway.

Defensively, the Tigers return everyone except Ridgway and Bauer, and no one in the backfield.

Vince Dooley will be the spark of the Tiger team this fall. The 5-10, 186 pound junior was 2nd team All-SEC last fall, spending three-fourths of his time on defense. He is not the world's best passer, but he is accurate on the short ones. His main threat will be on the ground.

Standout in the line is 255-pound defensive tackle Bill Turnbeough. The half-blind tackle relies on ground vibrations to determine the direction of the ball carrier.

Auburn was the slowest team in the SEC last fall, but it will be different this coming season. The sparkplug of the swift backfield is 139-pound righthalf Jackie Creel, SEC 220 yard champ and 2nd place winner in the 100. The flying sophomore will probably start against Maryland.

Auburn will open at tackle with Don and George Rogers on offense. Standing 6-5, and weighing 225-pounds each, they are the fastest tackles in the history of Auburn and are only sophs.

All in all, Auburn will be stronger at every position, but it is doubtful if the Tigers will finish the season with their 1951 record (5-5). Opening with Maryland, the number one team in the nation, and following up with Mississippi, the number one team in the SEC and one of the nation's best, Auburn can't hope to fare too well during the season.

Clemson College

by McNEIL HOWARD

The 1952 Tigers will, in the words of Coach Frank Howard, be "stronger in the offensive backfield, less experienced in the offensive line, and about the same defensively."

Reserves behind star Tiger backs Buck George and Billy Hair lead to the optimism about the offensive backfield. The loss of both guards, a tackle, and a tip-top end are responsible for the dull outlook in the line. The absence of only three regulars from the 1951 defensive team makes that part of the strategy seem tight.

A total of 17 regulars will return. Ten of last year's lettermen were lost through graduation.

The boys to watch will be the aforementioned Hair at tailback. George at wingback, Dreher Gaskin and Archie Baker at end, and Tom Barton at defensive guard.

The standard single wing formation may be varied somewhat.

University of Georgia

by DAN MAGILL, JR.

Coach Wallace Butts, as usual, is completely frank in analyzing Georgia's prospects for 1952 as he awaits the gong September 1 to begin his fourteenth season as head coach at the nation's oldest state chartered institution of learning (1785.)

"We should have a dangerous passing attack," he says, "but we led the Southeastern Conference in pass offense last year (161.8 yards per game) and still won only half our games. The key men in our 1951 pass offense are still with us."

"Our defense against both rushing and passing games was weak last year and, in our spring practice of 1952, failed to show much improvement, if any.

"We played our hardest schedule in our history in '51, completing it with a 5-5 record. Our 1952 schedule is even tougher. Therefore, our prospects to improve our 1951 won-lost mark are slim, indeed."

The sinister overhead offensive will be launched by Zeke Bratkowski, junior qb, who set a conference record by throwing for gains averaging 157.8 yards a game. His main target is a genuine All-America end candidate, Harry Babcock. The 6-3 glue-fingered terminal led the loop in pass catching with 41 receptions for 666 yards.

Perhaps the 1952 Bulldogs' growl might develop into a few bad bites. It's time.

by JOHN COX

According to Coach Eddie Erdelatz—"We have a lot of fellows named 'Joe' who love to play football. No one is outstanding and no one has his position cinched. Therefore, the competition is and will be keen.

"Our spring practice was the best we have ever had, but because we gave no thought to defense during the spring workouts, I don't know whether we will use the two-platoon system. I am of the opinion that our new offense, a combination of the single wing and Notre Dame box, will give us the best offense we have had in my time here. The kids love it.

"Our squad will be unusually small. In fact, this is by far the smallest team I have ever been connected with. Only five of the 46 players on the roster go over 200 pounds, and only two of these weigh 210. That was one of the factors that influenced our switch from the T-formation. In the T, the blocking is mostly man-to-man, while in the single wing you have two blockers on one man. With our light squad, I feel the latter will prove most advantageous to us."

The 46-man squad listed by Erdelatz at the conclusion of Spring practice was composed of the following: 19 returning lettermen; 4 varsity reserves who did not letter; 13 men up from last year's junior varsity; and 10 members of the 1951 plebe team. Only one member of last year's starting offensive eleven is back—Fullback Fred Franco.

Louisiana State University

by JIM CORBETT

A tough but attractive schedule, loss of 19 lettermen from 1951, and a sophomore-studded squad seasoned with talent but lacking experience represents the prospectus for LSU in '52.

In the words of Gaynell Tinsley, beginning his fifth year as head coach of the Bayou Bengals, the 1952 grid fortunes of Tigertown rest heavily and depend greatly on some 40-odd sophomores, a smattering of freshmen and seniors, and a lion's share of Lady Luck to "break even" with a terrific ten-game slate.

Position by position Tinsley looks for under-par end play, average tackles and guards, improvement at the center slot, and a potentially-good backfield.

Defensively the Bengals should be less potent than in '51, but offensive power should improve. Linebacking will not be adequate, but punting and passing is expected to exceed last season's performance in those departments.

Fourteen starters on the Tiger's two-platoon system of last season have been lost, and the starting linebackers and entire backfield which began the 1951 season have completed their education.

Tinsley will work with the "T" formation for the fifth straight season, and will modify both offense and defense according to needs and material.

Veterans returning are Charlie Oakley, halfback; Leroy Labat, fullback; Norm Stevens, quarterback; Sid Fournet; Bob Lawrence, tackle; and Gary Dildy, center.

Boston University

by VIC STOUT

The prospects are bright but the schedule is tough. That about sums up the early "look-see" into the situation at Boston University.

Coach Buff Donnelli, with the great Gorgeous Greek Harry Agganis, should have a top aggregation to throw against his toughest schedule, thus making them a threat every Saturday.

The Terriers have Agganis, and for any coach and team, that is plenty to start with. Agganis returned to the Hub last year after a hitch with the Marines and immediately took up where he left off his sophomore campaign. He completed 104 of 185 aerials for 1402 yards and 14 touchdowns. He also handles the kicking chores.

One might say the B U hope lies in its offensive strength even though Johnny Kasten, high-scoring fullback; Lindy Hanson, halfback; and Tommy Oates, a great pa s receiver have gone. Replacing them will be Lou Petroka, fullback; Joe Terrasi and Red Salisbury, halfbacks. It is still problematical who might team with Bob Capuano as the other end. Capuana is also one of the top returning veterans.

Other top veterans teaming with Agganis and Capuano are Ray Cataloni, offensive guard; and Jim Meredith, defensive end.

A fine selection of sophomores will dot the lineup this fall. Sure to see plenty of action are Terrasi and Salisburg; Grant Guiliano and Richard McNally, centers; and Tom Gastall, end.

Eight lettermen graduated but 17 are returning to give Donnelli a good nucleus with which to build his '52 eleven.

Agganis will be the key to Donnelli's T formation.

University of Mississippi

by BILLY GATES

Mississippi's football problems are basic. In the main they deal with the issue of replacing nine graduated veterans, six of whom were 1951 regulars. Included were six cogs, four linemen and two backs, who helped escort the Rebs to the top in the Southeastern's Statistical Derby.

It's Texan Johnny Vaught's sixth turn at the Johnny Reb helm and he's facing what looms as his most arduou mending task, that of rebuilding the touchdown-team line, the power side of the backfield, reforming a partially-depleted defensive platoon, and polishing a set of spares for the first-teamers.

For '52, there are 31 lettermen at hand, 17 playing on offense, 11 on defense and two sharing in both details. A dozen redshirts are moving up along with 15 sophomores and four mid-term frosh.

Summary: If Rebs can avoid mistakes usually developing when rebuilding, they should hit mid-season in form displayed last term when Ole Miss won six and tied one in 10-game schedule and finished third in conference race.

University of Alabama

By FINUS C. GASTON

Alabama's return to the top bracket of Southern football circles in 1952 will depend directly upon the coaches and players ability to develop and execute a much better defense than was in evidence last fall. The 1951 team had a better than average offense but defensive shortcomings were killing.

Although ten starters were among the 15 lettermen lost in December, the upcoming squad should be a better offensive crew and the defense greatly improved. What that will mean remains to be seen as the Crimson Tide plays a rough 11-game schedule including contests with four of last year's bowl participants—Maryland, Tennessee, Georgia Tech and Miami. Twenty-four lettermen will return.

Top Bama performer of course is All-America candidate Bobby Marlow—one of the nation's top all round players. He will likely stick to offense in '52 and this means trouble for all Tide foes. His top support in the backfield will come from quarterback Clell Hobson, and halfbacks Bobby Luna and Corky Tharp on offense. Bobby Wilson, the nation's number one punter, will lead the defense from a halfback post.

Up front the key men for Coach Harold "Red" Drew are guard Jerry Watford and Tackle Travis Hunt on offense and guard Jess Richardson and linebacker Harry Lee on defense.

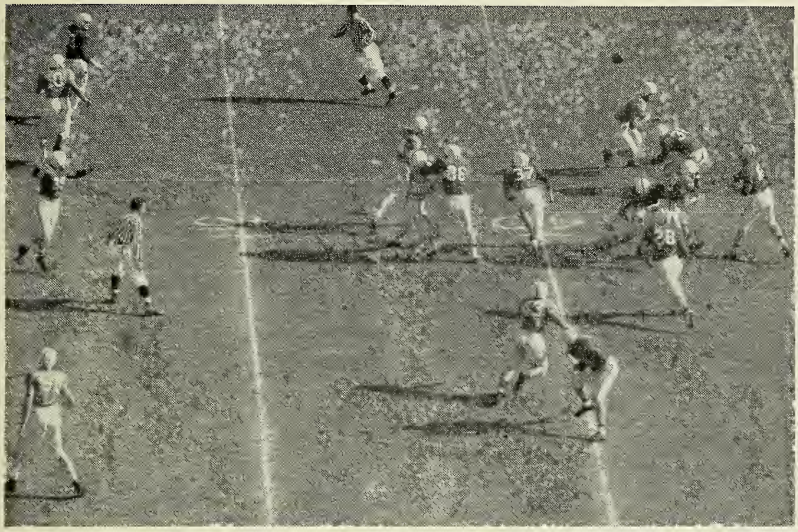
Scenes From Maryland's Greatest Football Hour



Jack Scarbath, the Terps' All-America quarterback candidate, rifles a strike to Ed Fullerton as the Red Shirts rolled against the Tennessee Vols. Both played outstanding game of their gridiron career.

Jubilant Terp players hoist their happy coach Jim Tatum to their shoulders as the 28-13 Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee was written into the books.

1951 HIGHLIGHTS

LONGEST RUSH FROM SCRIMMAGE:
Ed Fullerton—86 yards for td against University of Georgia.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

The history of the present University is the history of two institutions: the old privately-owned and operated University of Maryland in Baltimore and the Maryland State College (formerly Maryland Agricultural College) at College Park. These institutions were merged in 1920.

In 1807 the College of Medicine of Maryland was organized, the fifth medical school in the United States. The first class was graduated in 1810. A permanent home was established in 1814-1815 by the erection of the building at Lombard and Greene Streets in Baltimore, the oldest structure in America devoted to medical teaching. Here was founded one of the first medical libraries (and the first medical school library) in the United States. In 1812 the General Assembly of Maryland authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to "annex or constitute facilities of divinity, law, and arts and sciences," and by the same act declared that the "colleges or faculties thus united should be constituted an university by the name and under the title of the University of Maryland." By authority of this act, steps were taken in 1813 to establish "a faculty of law," and in 1823 a regular school of instruction in law was opened. Subsequently there were added: in 1882 a Department of Dentistry which was absorbed in 1923 by the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (founded in 1840, the first dental school in the world); in 1889 a School of Nursing; and in 1904 the Maryland College of Pharmacy (founded in 1841, the third oldest pharmacy college in the United States).

The Maryland State College was chartered in 1856 under the name of the Maryland Agricultural College, the second agricultural college in the Western Hemisphere. For three years the College was under private management. In 1862 the Congress of the United States passed the Land Grant Act. This act granted each State and Territory that should claim its benefits an appropriate amount of unclaimed western lands, in place of scrip, the proceeds from the sale of which should apply under certain conditions to the "endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such a manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life." This grant was accepted by the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Maryland Agricultural College was named as the beneficiary of the grant. Thus the College became, at least in part, a State institution. In the fall of 1914 control was taken over entirely by the State. In 1916 the General Assembly granted a new charter to the College, and made it the Maryland State College.

In 1920, by an act of the State Legislature, the University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College, and the resultant institution was given the name University of Maryland.
